

Why is Capacity Building Important for my Nonprofit Organization?

Nonprofit Board Directors and Officers have a fiduciary responsibility - an obligation of public trust to serve the best interest of the community - to ensure the nonprofit's advancement, financial viability and program performance. Breach of any of these duties may result in liability for Directors and Officers of the Board.